Access and Inclusion Guide

Welcome

Sydney Film Festival brings the world's best new films to Australia. The 68th festival is screening 200+ films in cinemas across Sydney 3–14 November. This year's festival is also streaming On Demand 12–21 November.

Sydney Film Festival endeavours to make its events a welcoming and inclusive experience for all audiences. All Sydney Film Festival venues are wheelchair accessible, with the exceptions of Cinemas 3 and 4 in Ritz Cinemas Randwick, which are not wheelchair accessible temporarily due to renovations. Sydney Film Festival is committed to ensuring the program is accessible to audiences online, including Closed Captions and Audio Descriptions for specific films.

For expanded details on the Festival's accessibility and inclusion practices and additional venue information including bathroom access and parking options, visit sff.org.au/info/access.

Vision

Audio Description

Audio describers give verbal descriptions of all the visual elements of what is happening on the screen. This is done during natural pauses and gaps in the dialogue via a small earpiece, provided to audience members before the show. Customers must book the service in advance online or over the phone and pick up their FM headset on arrival. This service has limited availability – please notify us of your needs at booking, or call 1300 733 733 or email tickets@sff.org.au for more information.

Assistance Animals

Assistance animals are welcome at all festival events and venues. Bookings are essential so the venue can be advised. Please notify us of your needs at online checkout, or call 1300 733 733 or email tickets@sff.org.au to book.

Hearing

Auslan Interpreted Performance

Auslan interpreted intros and Q&As are for audiences who use Australian Sign Language (Auslan).

Open Captioned

Open Captioning is a text display of all the words and sounds heard on screen. Foreign language films are also subtitled in English, though this does not include full open captioning.

Assistive Listening

All venues have an induction hearing loop system or hearing aid transmitters. See the venue specific information on our website for details.

Other Access

Wheelchair Access

Sydney Film Festival's venues have a limited number of wheelchair spaces. To book a space, please notify us via the notes box at checkout, call 1300 733 733 or email tickets@sff.org.au.
